ROBERT L. OWEN NAMED FIRST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Democrat convention program Met at 11:00 a. m.
Prayer by Rabi Martin A. Meyer, of San Francisco.
Presentation of candidates for presidential nomination.
The Democrat platform still was in the embryonic stage, but with prospects of presentation tomorrow to the convention, when the platform builders reassembled today.

Although many minor planks had been virtually settled, some in principle only and others in phrasology as well. Most of the trouble-some major problems remained unsolved, when the sub-committee of nine preparing a tentative draft reconvened today at 9:30 after less than eight hours rest. By afternoon or night, Chairman Carter Glass said, it was hoped to go finally before the full committee, where long spirited discussions were in prospect. With a late session tonight leaders hoped to be able to bring the completed product before the convention tomorrow.

The League of Nations and the prohibition question remained the big barriers to agreement. Adjustment of the league question, was said however, to be in a fair way of realization.

No basis for settlement of the liquor dispute was reported in sight when the sub-committee resumed work today. The drys were said to be insistent upon a prohibition expression, if only to the extent of a plank promising enforcement of the constitution and laws generally and not specifically.

Although Chairman Glass had announced none of the proposed planks had yet been adopted definitely by the subcommittee considerable of the uncontroverted sections were reported practically completed. Among those were commendations of many acts of the Wilson administration, the executive bureau and the records of the democrats in congress together with a tax on the republican legislative course. Some of the administration members were said to be for outlining directly in the platform the sort of reservations that should not be considered as nullifying the league covenant, while others wanted merely a blanket declaration for ratification "without destructive reservations."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Stripped for action, the Democrat national convention swung into the business of selecting a presidential nominee.

Meeting an hour earlier than usual and working under an order of business which permitted the presentation of candidates before the party platform had been adopted, the convention entered upon a day of demonstrations and oratory, which makes the placing of candidates in formal nomination. Speeches were on the program for: William G. McAdoo, Attorney General Palmer, Governor Cox, Chairman Homer S. Cummings, Governor Edwards of New Jersey, Senator Hitchcock, James Girard, Senator Owen of Oklahoma and John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—With all nominating addresses restricted to twenty minutes and seconding speeches to five and limited to not more than three in number to a candidate, each of the possibilities had not more than 35 minutes for full description of his merits and capacity for the nation's greatest gift.

The total McAdoo strength on the first ballot, according to the latest estimate of McAdoo's supporters, will approximate 300 votes. Some say it will not be more than 250, while others insist it will run over 300.

Both the Cox and Palmer forces viewed with evident satisfaction the scrimmage within the McAdoo forces, which was threatening to bring McAdoo to the front at once and make the nomination a three cornered contest from the beginning. They have insisted all along that they would not permit the movement to enjoy the advantage of a reserved seat in the rear, to wait for a psychological moment, when the convention, unable to throw a two-thirds vote to either of them, would turn to someone else.

The Cummings forces grew from a mere demonstration of enthusiasm to formidable proportions in the 24 hours which followed the chairman's opening address, and today it had taken full form, with hand bills being circulated among the delegates, declaring "A great moment has produced a great man."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Candidates for presidential honors were being placed in nomination at today's session of the democratic national convention. While committee men struggled behind closed doors attempting to draft a platform acceptable to all elements in the party convention, under a rule approved yesterday, saved time by having the nominating speeches made in advance of the declaration of principles.

Beginning before noon oratory held forth and was expected to continue throughout the day, interrupted only by noisy demonstrations as the names of favorite candidates were placed before the delegates.

With all the candidates formally nominated, the convention will await the report of the platform committee before proceeding to pick the nominee. Balloting may not begin until late Thursday or Friday. The platform drafters plan to work continuously until the document is completed. Senator Carter Glass, chairman of the committee, said every effort was being made to expedite the work.

Regardless of the action taken by the sub-committee, members repeated that there is sure to be a fight in the full committee over the league of nations and the prohibition questions, and that the losers will carry an appeal to the convention for final decision. Substantial agreement, it was said, has been reached on many of the minor issues proposed for incorporation in the platform.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—According to administration chiefs, the sub-committee of nine, drafting the democrat platform, has practically agreed on a prohibition plank.

M'Adoo Won't Have It?

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Definite and final instructions came from the east early today that William G. McAdoo's name was not formally to be placed before the Democrat national convention.

NEW YORK, June 30.—"This action was taken with my entire approval," William G. McAdoo said today, when told that "definite and final instructions" had been received in San Francisco that his name was not formally to be placed before the Democrat national convention. He would make no further comment.

HIS NAME PLACED IN NOMINATION

Senator Robert L. Owen.

ALABAMA PASSES AND ARIZONA YIELDS TO OKLAHOMA—HAYDEN LINEBAUGH OF MUSKOGEE PLACES SEN. OWEN BEFORE CONVENTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—At noon today, San Francisco time, the Democrat national convention was in the business of hearing nomination speeches. Senator Owen of Oklahoma had been placed in nomination and speakers were ready to make nominating speeches for all the other candidates, except McAdoo, whose name, by a last minute change in arrangements, was not to be presented.

At 11:36, Chairman Robinson called for nominations and directly the secretary called the roll of states. The name of Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, was the first to be placed before the convention. Alabama passed and Arizona yielded to Oklahoma. D. Hayden Linebaugh, of Muskogee, took the platform to place the name of Senator Owen in nomination. Linebaugh spoke 17 minutes, placing Senator Owen in nomination and at the conclusion of his speech, the Oklahoma delegation broke out with a demonstration, which, however, was not prolonged. The band tried to help it out with a galloping air. When it subsided Governor Brough of Arkansas, seconded the nomination of Owen. At the close of Governor Brough's seconding speech, there was another Owen demonstration, which the band helped out again.

In nominating the Oklahoma Senator, Mr. Linebaugh said:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"With you, Oklahoma rejoices in this great gathering of the sons and daughters of democracy. As democrats we can survey the past with feelings of exultation and of pride. The achievements of our party during our administration of government affairs are unexcelled in American history. Democracy has rendered a full measure of service to the republic.

"We are assembled as the representatives of forty-eight great states each a sovereign in its own right, and each of equal honor and dignity. The great war has established democracy throughout the world. It has entirely wiped out sectional lines in the United States. The men of the West and of the East, the men of the North and the men of the South have faced death together in the trenches; have learned to know, and to respect, and to love each other. The time has come when the East and the West, the North and the South shall sit in council as full political equals.

"Oklahoma believes that no citizen of the nation will raise the sectional cry, that the candidate of the West is to be denied on sectional grounds. It matters little now from what section a man comes, but it matters much who the man is.

"As democrats no responsibility of the past is greater than the responsibility of today—the responsibility of choosing a man to direct the destiny of the nation for the next four years. Let us nominate a man who is worthy to be president of the United States. Let us nominate a man who can support and who will arouse the least antagonism. Let us nominate a man who can be elected.

"Oklahoma presents one of the greatest brains, one of the greatest hearts, one of the greatest democrats in America—a man who is worthy to be president of the United States. A man who can be elected president of the United States. A man who can marshal the greatest number of friends and supporters of any man in the United States. A man who will lead the country and the democratic party to a grand and glorious victory in November—Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma.

"As a result of the tremendous upheaval through which we have just passed, precedents no longer control. Party ties are binding more loosely, and men and women are indulging in more independent and intelligent political thought than ever before in the history of the nation. The need of the hour is a candidate whose record and whose character will inspire the confidence of progressive-thinking, forward-looking men and women, without regard to past party affiliations.

"We offer you a man who in three great campaigns has shown himself capable of attracting the support of progressive men and women who are not affiliated with the democratic party, who in 1912 received, in Oklahoma, fifteen thousand more votes than the national ticket, and against whom, in 1918,

ELECTRICIAN MEETS DEATH

FORMER CITIZEN OF ADA IS KILLED BY ELECTRIC SWITCH BOARD IN PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 30.—(Special)—Ollie Middleton, an employee of the General Electric Company of Chicago, Ill., while working on the switchboard at the Pine Bluff plant of the company fell across two copper buss leads carrying 2400 volts, last Thursday. Death was instant; however, the pulmotor was used for an hour in an effort to revive him but he never regained consciousness. Mr. Middleton, whose home is in Belvidere, Ill., had been here three months doing construction work in the power plant. He was 30 years of age and was born in Abilene, Texas.

Mrs. Middleton and baby daughter accompanied him to this city but had returned to their home in Belvidere, only a few days ago. Notice of the accident was sent to her and she left for their old home in Hickory where the interment took place Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Middleton was formerly a resident of Ada for a number of years and is well known and has relatives living in that city. While in Ada, Mr. Middleton was employed by the Ada Electric & Gas company. Besides leaving a wife and little daughter Mr. Middleton has the following relative: Jno Middleton of Lawton, D. L. Middleton of Amarillo, Mrs. Richard Cantrell of Stoneville, Mrs. Zina Davis, Ada, Mrs. O. E. Gooden of Lawton, Mrs. Butler Suggs of Bervin, Mrs. A. P. Middleton of Francis and J. W. Middleton.

Allies to Reconsider.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, June 29.—German delegates at the Spa conference, will not insist upon the maintenance of an army of 200,000 men, according to the Echo D'Paris, quoting an unnamed diplomat, who declared the allies will be asked to reconsider indemnity claims.

FIRST AMERICAN LEGION FOUNDED IN THE YEAR, 1792

By the Associated Press

CAMP PIKE, Ark., June 29.—The first "American Legion" was founded in 1792, and its existence by that name, terminated in 1796. War department records show that when the regular army was reorganized in 1792, following the Revolutionary war, it was first officially designated the "Legion," and was divided into four "sub-legions," of which the 4th United States Infantry was a part.

The idea of designating the United States army as the legion originated with General Knox, secretary of war under George Washington. The army was patterned after the Roman legion, the old military organization under which Julius Caesar and his successors conquered as much of the world as was then known.

The American "Legion" was commanded by General Anthony Wayne ("Mad Anthony") and was organized under his direction at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1792. President Washington instructed General Wayne "do not spare powder and lead, so that the men be made marksmen." The Legion fought its only battle as a legion at Miami Rapids in the Kentucky-Ohio-Indian country August 20, 1794, engaging a force of hostile Indians. In 1796, it having been decided that the Roman formation was not suitable for fighting Indians, the legion was disbanded and reorganized into four regiments of infantry.

A TEXAS MOB KILLS 4 BLACKS

WANTED IN CONNECTION WITH KILLING OF DEPUTY SHERIFF LAST SATURDAY NIGHT.

By the Associated Press

WHARTON, Texas, June 30.—Two negroes were shot to death and two others hanged by posies early this week in this county, it became known here today. They were wanted in connection with the killing of Deputy Sheriff S. C. McCormick last Saturday night.

Washington Giles and his brother, name unknown, and who were accused of firing the shot that killed McCormick, were shot by pursuers late Tuesday afternoon near Diamond Mound. The bodies of Judie Gordon and Elijah Anderson were found Tuesday morning hanging from trees six miles east of Wharton. Officers here assert they have no clue as to the personnel of the posies. It is understood 20 men participated in the pursuit of the negroes. Gordon and Anderson, it was said, admitted they were aiding the Giles brothers to escape.

Deputy Sheriff McCormick was shot to death Saturday night when he went to the Giles home to arrest Washington Giles on a minor charge.

BUSINESS HOUSES MOVE AND PUT ON ADDITIONS

The First National bank is extending its business offices back to include the office formerly occupied by P. A. Norris.

P. A. Norris will occupy the office room formerly used by Haraway & Blanks Real Estate Co. Haraway & Blanks will move into front part of the old Howard & Zorn building.

Howard & Zorn will occupy the back part of the old building they have been in and will also occupy the new brick adjoining. They have already moved out of the front end of the old stand.

Presbytery Holds Forth Here — Rev. Patterson Installed

Dr. N. P. Patterson was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ada last night by the presbytery of Ardmore. Dr. C. C. Weith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ardmore and moderator of the presbytery presided and preached the sermon. His theme was "The Duties and Activities of the Church and the Pastor." Rev. J. B. Nickelson, pastor at Purcell, delivered the charge to the pastor. It was pronounced by all to have been one of the most unique charges ever given to a pastor. It was all scripture quotations.

Dr. Nickelson baptized Dr. Patterson and received him into the church many years ago. Dr. Weston of Lehigh delivered the charge to the congregation which was full of vim, instruction and spirit. Rev. Duncan McRuer, state clerk of the presbytery, read the scripture lesson from the first chapter of Acts and Rev. Scroggs of Centrahoma led the prayer.

The house was well filled and the service was an inspiration to all. The choir rendered an anthem "We are the people of his pasture," with credit and to great effect. Rev. M. B. Malloy, who always pleases his hearers, sang a beautiful solo appropriate to the service.

Notice, Masons.

Ada Lodge No. 119 A. F. & A. M., will meet tonight at 7:30 for work in the Entered Apprentice Degree. Three candidates. Please be prompt. Visiting Masons welcome.—R. H. Gladwell, W. M.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE AGREE

GET TOGETHER AND MAP OUT PLAN WHICH REPUBLICAN PARTY WILL FOLLOW IN CAMPAIGN.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The republican presidential campaign will be based on "an appeal to restore party government as a constitutional substitute for personal government," Senator Harding, the party presidential candidate, announced today after a conference with Calvin Coolidge, his running mate, and National Chairman Will H. Hays.

At the same time Governor Coolidge, in a formal statement, declared that there must be "a return of public opinion toward a self control by the people toward a great and overmastering desire to observe the law."

Senator Harding's statement said: "Governor Coolidge breakfasted with me this morning, and we have agreed that we will base the campaign on an appeal to restore party government, as a constitutional substitute for personal government."

Governor Coolidge's statement follows: "I am here to co-operate with my associates. We have many problems ahead. Many men have many remedies. The best remedy is the observance of the constitution and the laws, not their enforcement. I am not speaking of that. Of course the government will enforce the laws."

GENERAL CALLES HAS ORDERED FLIER RELEASED

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, June 30.—General Elias Calles, the war minister, last night ordered the release of Lieutenant Ames, the American aviator, who was forced to make a landing in Mexico, 35 miles south of the border, Sunday last, while lost in a rain storm. Ames had been in the custody of Mexican authorities at Matamoros.

OWEN OUT AGAINST THE PROFITEERS

By Mabel Abbott.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—“You can't measure this convention by its hotel corridor aspects,” said William Jennings Bryan with his justly celebrated smile.

“One of the pleasant things about a convention is that you never can tell what is going to happen.”

With his usual cannyness, W. J. B., made the same prophecy that is safe at the present time. You can't tell what is going to happen. That is what makes the men who are trying to make things happen so interesting.

“Keen Eyed and Beaming.”

Bryan was one of the several of whom I got a glimpse on the eve of the big fight. Most people have seen the famous apostle of dryness with their own eyes at sometime during the last 20 years. For the benefit of those who have not the most accurate description is that he looks just like the cartoons, keen eyed and beaming.

He told me that he was interested in several other things in the present convention besides a dry plank, some of them are a plank against profiteering, keeping the treaty issue out of the campaign, and the labor question.

He wants some plan outlined that will afford a means of settling industrial disputes before they reach the strike or lockout stage. He does not consider the Kansas industrial court law a satisfactory solution.

A few floors higher up in the St. Francis hotel than Bryan, Senator Owen, the part Cherokee candidate for the presidency, also told me that he was out for the scalps of the profiteers.

In fact he thinks the whole H. C. of L. question from production to consumption, is the biggest one to be faced by the next president—and he hopes to have the job.

He is tall, lean-limbed and strong-jawed. He has a way of fixing you with his eye that makes you glad you are not a profiteer.

T. B. Love of Texas has the delicate job of managing a balky candidate Love was assistant secretary of the treasury during the war and when anybody wants to know anything about the candidacy that is going merely on without McAdoo he is generally told to “See Tom Love.”

Love is a mild mannered southerner, with a wonderful flow of language concerning McAdoo's accomplishments. He begins with the building of the Hudson tubes and had got down to the federal reserve and farm loan acts and the shipping board before I could stop him.

He believes McAdoo will be nominated and will accept the nomination. Edward H. Moore, campaign manager for Governor Cox, dinnerless and haggard, and explaining at the top of his voice to a room full of Ohioans why he hadn't been able to get seats for all of them at all of the sessions, was still cheerful.

“He'll Win Because He'll Win.”

“We think Governor Cox is going to be elected because he has the record that will make the strongest appeal to the American people,” he summarized, as he dashed for an executive session. “I could tell you a lot more if I had time but it would all come down to that in the end.”

A. Mitchell Palmer has headquarters right down on the street like a store. No Quaker quietness about this Quaker's campaign methods. His supporters invade cafes and hotel lobbies with bands and campaign songs.

A scenario with himself as the central figure will be thrown on the movie screens, and his picture with a handle attached to the chin is being distributed as a souvenir fan.

C. C. Carlin of W. Virginia, his campaign manager, looks like his chief to the extent of having a young face and gray hair. Also he has the faculty of keeping his temper when interrupted in the middle of a committee meeting. He did this for me.

“Palmer's forces believe Palmer will lead from the first ballot,” he said, “and will be nominated. We represent the administration policies.”

And so they talk and as the canny old veteran of many conventions said, with his beaming smile enclosed in parenthesis of shrewd wrinkles—“You never can tell what will happen.”

A Few Scenes at the Opening of Democrat Convention

E. H. MOORE, democratic national committeeman from Ohio and Cox's campaign manager, is a convincing talker and never loses a chance to boost his candidate.

C. C. CARLIN, campaign manager for Attorney General Palmer, is right on the job at Palmer's headquarters, Frisco.

It's funny how some people like to crowd around in wet places when there are plenty of dry spots to stand in.

Francis Lyceum Is Attended by Many Ada Citizens

Quite a number of Ada people took advantage of the beautiful night to drive to Francis and attend the opening number of the Francis Chautauqua last night. They report a most excellent number for the evening and will return other nights during the week to hear the talent that is appearing during the course. The Chautauqua will last thru the week and many people from Ada propose to attend. The people of Francis are to be commended for securing this excellent course and the people of Ada should show a good turn by attending the course whenever possible and helping the public spirited citizens of Francis to make a success of their enterprise.

Beauty of Surroundings Makes Convention Look Like a Genuine Carnival

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The democratic national convention opened like a carnival, with laughter and songs and banners and toy balloons and pretty dresses. The dominant note of the first day was that of exuberant high spirits and confidence. It was in the air as the crowd streamed through the beautiful grounds of the civic center in the noon sunshine that was bright and yet cool; it was in the campaign songs that ran in opposition to each other in a dozen parts of the hall before the session opened. No two were in the same key, yet all blended into the same harmony by the same tumult key. It was in the zest and determination of the demonstration that broke loose when President Wilson's picture was unveiled; it was in the persistence with which 12,000 people sat long past their lunch hour to hear the whole of Chairman Cummings' speech, with occasional interjections by the bands.

Women Make it Like Social Affair.

Thus far, this is a gay, enthusiastic and extremely decorative convention. Women have a representation sufficient to make it look like a social affair. And they are all dolled up in their prettiest clothes, though there is a noticeable preference for garments with some warmth in them. From floor to the top of the gallery that rises as steeply as the side of Mt. Tamalpais almost to the roof, the bright colors of women's hats and gowns were splashed almost through the great picture.

The temporary construction necessary to enable the auditorium to take care of the convention has not been allowed to make it ugly. To be ugly is an unpardonable crime in the eyes of a San Franciscan. The false ceiling of cloth, installed to improve the acoustics, has been decorated as carefully and artistically as if it were the permanent ceiling of a theater. The sprawling horns of the voice magnifier that hangs above the speakers' heads like some prehistoric monster, have been painted into inconspicuousness. The press desks have been set at a comfortable distance apart, so the delegates will not be distracted by the spectacle of correspondents climbing over each other and running along the tops of the desks as they had to do in Chicago.

Girl Ushers Can't Help Being Ornamental.

Even the board fence that keeps the crowd from jamming at the entrance is no longer a board fence, but a solid hedge of green teapant branches. College girl ushers share the work of helping delegates and visitors find their places, they know the hall by heart and work quietly and effectively. They cannot help being very ornamental at the same time.

Altogether the first session of the 1920 democratic convention had a highly festive aspect. There may be fireworks later on, we are told. There may be all sorts of undercurrents boiling even now under the sparkling surface, but it looks like a picnic.

Daniels Borrows Safety Pin for Badge.

Indeed, I experienced a regular picnic adventure. The Honorable Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, borrowed a safety pin from me the very first day of the democratic national convention. He needed it to hold up an important part of his costume—his badge—I mean. The secretary of the navy sat among the other dignitaries and the reporters sat below them, separated, apparently, only by a low railing, but in fact by a high wall of official dignity.

But Mr. Daniels was a reporter himself once, they tell me, and it's a fact that you never do entirely get over that. So when the badge without which even the secretary of the navy couldn't get into the convention hall, suddenly fell off, it was to the press box that he sent his hurry call for a pin. I had one. The messenger rushed it across the railing and I had the pleasure of seeing my safety pin shining conspicuously on the secretarial coat lapel throughout the rest of the session. Now I am hoping that Mr. Bryan will discover that he needs a hairpin. I always carry some extra ones.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: “I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before.

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use.”

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

Ada Alfalfa Mill Company Organized For This Country

Some few months ago, it was suggested among the business men of this city that Ada should have a mill where alfalfa and other feed products could be manufactured. This matter was considered by Mr. C. W. Zorn and R. W. Allen, two successful business men of this city.

Today we have a company formed which is backed by thirty substantial business men, a charter to do business under the Laws of the State of Oklahoma and fully paid capital stock of $50,000. Linked together with these facts in a total of 5000 acres of alfalfa in this country, besides other grain crops that will be handled in this mill.

The prospects for the success of corporation are very promising and the men who are behind this institution are putting forth every effort to make this one of the city's foremost enterprises. They will maintain a policy to do favors to all farmers and feed growers of this section and will buy their products and pay the highest market prices.

Together with these features the mill will handle their crops and work the grains into feeds at a very low cost and thereby saving much money on feed products that have been heretofore shipped in this country. The freight and jobbers profit are added to all products that reach this country and by the establishment of a mill in this city that extra expense can be eliminated.

Mr. Allen is out of town with the intention of purchasing the machinery for the plant and Mr. Zorn is looking after the business in his absence. A meeting of the stockholders is called for Tuesday at 2 o'clock at which time all plans for the furthering of this movement will be perfected.

A teaspoonful of Herbine will produce a copious and purifying bowel movement, improve appetite, restore mental activity and a fine feeling of vigor and cheerfulness. Price 60c. Sold by Bart Smith, adv.

Suit Againts the Vanoss District Is Withdrawn

The suit to prevent the forming of a consolidated school district at Vanoss has been withdrawn according to announcement made today. It is said that active work will begin at once to erect the proposed school building at Vanoss.

The agitation of forming a consolidated district began early in the spring just after the school building at Vanoss was destroyed by fire. Belle View and Lanham districts were joined with the Vanoss district when the consolidation plan was carried by a large popular majority. Some parties opposed to the consolidation went into court to have the project stopped and have had the matter tied up for some time. The withdrawal of the suit will enable the people to go ahead and get their school building ready for the next year's work.

Dr. N. P. Patterson Will Pastor the Presbyterians

Rev. Newton Preston Patterson, elder in the Presbyterian church. Dr. D., was born on January 19, 1884, near Greenville, Hunt county, of eleven years old his parents Texas. His father, A. E. Patterson, moved to Erath county, Texas. He was a farmer and for the forty attended only rural schools at intervals until he was practically a grown man, when he entered the high school at Stephenville and afterwards attended McAlhany academy, which later came to be John Tarlton college. After spending part of two years in these two schools he became a teacher in the rural schools of Erath county for one year.

Mr. Patterson entered Trinity university at Tehuacana, Texas, in September, 1900. After spending one and one-half years in the preparatory department he was called as home mission pastor to a group of four churches in Henderson, Van Zant and Kauffman counties, residing at Mabank, Texas, where he built up a strong church and buildings within the bounds of Bacon Presbytery. He was ordained to preach by Bacon Presbytery at Colfax, Texas, on March 13, 1902.

Reverend Patterson was married to Miss Ida L. Bridges on April 13, 1902. They continued to reside at Mabank and remained with this group of churches for five years, following which he resigned to re-enter college at Trinity university, which had been moved to Waxahatchie, Texas, where it is now located.

It was September when Mr. Patterson entered this college and the following January Mrs. Patterson entered and continued with him for the remaining three and one-half years of the course, graduating in the same class with him, June 1, 1910.

During these four years at college Reverend Patterson did supply work at Palmer, Kerens, Ovilla, Sterrett, Crandall and Willpoint, Texas, and at the middle of his senior year he was called to the pastorate of Grace Presbyterian church at Weatherford, Texas.

After serving Weatherford church for about two years Doctor Patterson, having been a student volunteer, resigned his pastorate to go to Korea under the auspices of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, but owing to poor health of members of his family, he was forced to give up this missionary work and went instead to Chicago where he entered McCormick Seminary in September, 1911. Here he remained to complete the course and was graduated with the class of April, 1914. Reverend Patterson supplied South Park church in Chicago the first year he was in the seminary and in the middle of the seminary course he was called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church at Delphi, Indiana. Here he served for a little more than two years when he was called to the First Presbyterian church at Beatrice, Nebraska.

Rev. Patterson had been with the Beatrice church but a short time before he was made chairman of the Synodical Committee on Evangelism and it was in this capacity that he has done his largest work in the state of Nebraska. Mr. Patterson was held in the highest esteem in Nebraska synod and took his place with the strongest. At the regular fall meeting of the Nebraska City Presbytery, 1916, he was elected moderator. He was twice in two years made Grand Chaplain of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter in the Masonic fraternity and of the Grand Council. His power throughout the state was strongly felt in the campaign for the prohibition amendment and it was largely due to his tireless efforts that Nebraska joined the ranks of the dry state.

During the October meeting of the State Christian Endeavor Union held at Omaha, Doctor Patterson was elected vice president and transportation manager. He was very popular in Christian Endeavor Circles in Beatrice, having been instrumental in the organization of three societies. He was made Pastoral advisor of the Beatrice City union at the time of its organization and held the position until after he had left the state, February 1st, 1917. (Continued on page 5.)

—SAVE NOW —SPEND LATER

There's a lot in how we arrange the ups and downs of life. Keeping Savings up and holding expenses down is the common sense rule for everyone who expects to make definite progress.

Those who save now while spending brings such unprofitable returns will have the satisfaction of spending later on when dollars buy more.

It takes so little to start an account with us—and the benefits are so numerous—that the desirability for prompt action is obvious.

WAR—WHAT FOR?

During the fiscal year that ends today the expenses of running the government have been exactly $5,686,005,705.

The actual expenses of maintaining the government has been only one half billion dollars—to be exact it has been $406,384,443. The remaining five and one fourth billions went to pay the expenses of war.

Wars past, wars present, and wars prospective cost the American people five and a quarter billion dollars during the fiscal year closing today. Ninety two per cent of all congressional appropriations went to pay for wars already fought or wars yet to be fought.

Out of every dollar voted by congress 92c went to pay the pensions of veterans or support our armies and navies held in readiness for the next summons to the slaughter house.

Out of every dollar voted by congress one penny went to the cause of education. A penny for the cause of education and ninety two pennies for destruction.

Very few people have ever wanted war, yet we have had war. Very few people want war today, yet we continue to have war. Very few people want war in the future, yet we shall have war in the future. What for?

It is now costing every man, woman and child $50.00 per capita each year to pay the expenses of government. Each citizen contributes fifty cents to the cause of education. Each citizen contributes forty six dollars to the cause of Mars. What for?

Agriculture is beyond doubt our most important industry. Yet each citizen contributes each year to advance the cause of agriculture exactly thirty three cents. Contrast the thirty-three cents he pays for agriculture advancement with the forty six dollars he pays for war.

We look at the national money bill of $5,686,005,705 and lose our sense of proportions. We denounce pork barrel legislation, curse river and harbor expenses, inveigh against the public building program, and demand the demobilization of the hordes of useless government employees. But if all these causes of extravagance were eliminated, our annual expense bill would be reduced from one dollar to 92c.

If we want to eliminate waste, check extravagance and establish economy, we must eliminate war. Why should we fume and fret over 8c and ignore the 92c.

Some day the public will realize not only the wanton waste of stupidity of war but also its struggling cost. And when they realize that wars are impoverishing the country, the public will demand that wars shall cease. They will establish a court of arbitration to force nations to settle their troubles in an orderly way. That court may not be called a league of nations, but it will free the world from the folly of war.

THE HAND OF ESAU

Some months ago while campaigning down in Texas Senator Harding said that the rights of the people and the rights of the states must be preserved, that local government must be restored, and that the extended powers of federalism must be decentralized. He declared that long range government from Washington must cease.

Some days ago Senator Harding was invited to request certain states to ratify the nineteenth amendment. But Senator Harding politely declined.

Some days ago the president of the United States wired the governor of a sovereign state insisting that the governor should convoke the legislature in extraordinary session to ratify the nineteenth amendment and he insisted that the legislature ratify.

Senator Harding claims to be a Hamiltonian, which is equivalent to saying that he believes in a strong, centralized government. President Wilson claims to be a Jeffersonian, which is equivalent to saying that he believes in preserving the powers of the states.

But the past fortnight has demonstrated that Harding of Ohio is a truer Democrat than Woodrow Wilson and that Wilson is a truer Republican than Warren G. Harding. By their fruits ye shall know them.

"Anything to beat Wilson" was the slogan of the Chicago convention. Then it named Harding.

"We present you a well known friend of labor, whom the working man would strongly support. His authorship of the child labor law and active support of all progressive labor legislation shows his intelligent appreciation of the problems of labor, and his earnest desire to solve them wisely.

"We present you a genuine American who has in his public and private life at all times happily exemplified the true and typical American spirit, a man of great vision, of an even temperament—with a calm, serene and tranquil spirit, a man of simplicity and modesty, a worshiper of truth and honor, a lover of his fellowman, with a brain and heart equal to any task the great office shall impose.

"We offer you a great democrat, an old Virginia democrat, born and reared in the Old Dominion, a western democrat who for thirty years has been the acknowledged leader of the democracy of Oklahoma. He fought its battles and carried its flag, in season and out of season, not only at home but throughout the nation. He always carried it to victory in his own state and, without the shadow of turning, he has kept the faith. ## State Convicts To Return About First of September

That the state convicts will be returned to Pontotoc county about September 1, and kept here for five months thereafter, is the understanding of the board of county commissioners and the state board of affairs. The county authorities were anxious to keep the convicts here thru the summer, but the state authorities declared that inasmuch as the busy season of the state farm requires all the labor available, the convicts will be taken back to the walls at the expiration of the present contract, which expires July 1.

A strenuous effort has been made by the county commissioners and the Chamber of Commerce of Ada to get a renewal of the contract effective at once, but the board of affairs were unwilling to let the necessary work on the prison farm suffer for lack of sufficient labor and were unable to renew the contract. However, the board has written a letter to the commissioners pledging the return of the convicts at the earliest possible date. The letter follows:

Oklahoma City, Okla.
June 19, 1920.

Dear Sir:
In reply to your inquiry of recent date relative to the state furnishing convict labor for building roads in your county, you will please be advised that owing to the rush of the harvest season at this particular time it is absolutely necessary to withdraw the camp now located at Ada.

I desire to assure you, however, that just as soon as we are able to release these men we will be only too glad to permit a camp to be returned to your county.

I think we will finish our harvest and the cultivation of our crops by September 1st, and would be willing to then enter into a five month contract with your board for the return of the prison camp to your county, on the same terms that the present camp has been working.

Yours very truly,
State Board of Public Affairs.

HARDING'S SECOND NAME IS GAMALIEL

Senator Harding's second name is "Gamaliel" pronounced "Gah-may-leel-el," with the accent on the "may."

The name is from the Hebrew and means "God is rewarded". The most prominent Gamaliel mentioned in the Bible (Acts v: 34-39) was a noted Pharisee, who counseled moderate measures regarding the Twelve apostles. Several other Gamaliels are mentioned in the old testament.

Similar Cases Being Published In Each Issue.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Ada. It is an easy task to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

E. C. Hearn, stationary engineer, 311 W. Fifteenth St., Ada, says: "Some time ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with such fine results I shall never hesitate in choosing a kidney remedy hereafter. My back had been giving me a steady, grinding ache just over my hips and when I tried to lift anything or stoop over, I could hardly straighten. Mornings, I felt lame and stiff and as though I had had no rest. I had to get up often in the night to pass the kidney secretions, too. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills from Gwin & Mays Drug Store and they surely gave me quick relief. In a short time, Doan's entirely removed the trouble and it has been two years since I have had need of a kidney remedy."

Society

They say that Hope is happiness; But genuine Love must prize the past. And Memory wakes the thoughts that bless; They rose the first—they set the last; And all that Memory loves the most Was once our only Hope to be, And all that Hope adored and lost Hath melted into Memory.

Alas—It is delusion all; The future cheats from us afar, Nor can we be what we recall, Nor dare we think on what we are.

While society is busy saying good-bye to some, it is just as busy meeting and welcoming to our city some who are not entirely strangers, because they have visited here before. However, society grows duller every week and the weather grows warmer and more and more of the society people journey far for a cool rest. Right here, I pause for breath and to mop my moist and fevered brow and as you know, an honest confession is good for the soul, so I might as well 'fess up. Remember I mentioned the perfect June days we had last week? Well, the weather man was laughing up his sleeve at me right then. Did somebody say oh, no, wasn't because his sleeves were rolled up above his elbows, while he watched the mercury climbing higher and higher. They do say you talk about the weather when you haven't anything else to talk about and I will desist.

Wasn't that a man judge in Ohio who said that the woman would have to wear more clothes when they came into his court if it was hot? I guess Ohio judges think they have a right to be high and 'upty' because a president has been nominated from that state again. But, wait, there's another convention coming off in California and then we will see a thing or two. I am getting slangy, but politics and weather are liable to make anyone forget the good old English.

Hooks-Shead. Miss Dorothy Hooks and Orson Keith Shead were married yesterday at the Baptist church, Reverend Elliff of the North Side Baptist church performing the ceremony. Miss Hooks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hooks of Franks, Okla., and is well known in this city. Mr. Shead is engaged, in the oil business in Breckenridge, Texas, and is known to be a successful young business man of that city.

The couple left immediately for Oklahoma City where ashrdshrdl Oklahoma City where they will spend a few days and will go from that city to Galveston, later going to Breckenridge, where they will make their future home.

Those attending the ceremony were members of the family. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shead of Norman, and Mrs. Shead, grandmother of Mr. Shead of Norman.

They have many friends in this city who wish for them much happiness and prosperity in their new home.

OLD GOLD BLOUSE AND SATIN SKIRT IS SMART OUTFIT

By Eloise.

Frisilly summer frocks are popular, but nothing could be more serviceable or permit of more charming variation than the separate skirt and blouse. For sports or more formal wear the silk or satin skirt is quite the thing. It is an excellent foundation for the new overblouses, silk sweaters, wash blouses or tuck-in waists. With gorgeous blouses it becomes a formal costume and with sweaters it is practical for town and country wear.

The well dressed woman wants at least one separate skirt of white in either a wash material or a novelty silk or satin and one fancy colored or plaid silk. These skirts make an excellent filling in costume which may be worn at many odd times when a frock is not at hand.

Here is a striking costume which is made of a separate skirt of white novelty satin and a very charming overblouse of old gold colored taffeta. The color combination is unusual and effective. The skirt is a plain model which will do long service and the blouse with its simple lines and trimming of pleated self material will find many uses after the white skirts of summer are put away. To set off the costume a large picture hat of white organdy is worn. It is a dashing model with a low crown and a sharp upward turn to the brim at the back.

Tested Recipes.

Baked stuffed peppers—Place in a mixing bowl; One and one-half cups of bread, three onions chopped fine, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of white pepper, two tablespoons of finely chopped parsley, one-quarter teaspoon of thyme, two well-beaten eggs, one-half cup milk, two tablespoons of melted butter.

Mix thoroughly and then fill into four large peppers. Set the peppers in a greased custard cup and add two tablespoons of water to each cup. Place the cups in a baking pan for convenience of handling and then bake in a moderate oven for thirty-five minutes. Remove from the oven and place on a slice of toast with a cheese sauce and serve.

Rice and pork chops—Cook rice until soft, add one cup strained tomato juice, salt and pepper. Place in baking dish and cover top with pork chops. Bake in oven until meat is tender and brown.

With above dishes it is sufficient to serve bread and butter, salad and desert and coffee.
Salad Dressing with Potato—Boil one large potato (unpared). When tender remove skin and mash until smooth. Add one egg (whipped.) Season with one teaspoon of mustard (level), one teaspoon of cornstarch, two tablespoons of butter or oleo, one tablespoon of sugar one teaspoon of salt, pepper to taste, one teacup of vinegar (cider) not too strong.

Mix ingredients well. Heat to boiling point. When cool add one teacup of Worcestershire sauce.

Nice for any salad requiring dressing.

Potato puff—To a quart of hot mashed potato add a tablespoon of butter, a little milk to soften, two beaten eggs, enough rich milk or cream to make the mixture quite soft, adding salt to taste. Put in a buttered dish and bake to a golden brown.

THE NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE SEEKING HOLD ON DAKOTA

By the Associated Press

FARGO, N. D., June 20.—The Non-Partisan League administration in North Dakota is seeking a continuation of power in the North Dakota primaries today. Governor Lynn J. Frazier, the first league governor, is running in the republican primaries for renomination for a third successive term.

He is faced, however, by opposition in the republican primaries from Non-Partisan league candidates. William Langer, state attorney general, who was twice elected on the league ticket with Governor Frazier, is running for governor in the republican primaries against his former chief, and two other state officials elected on the last league ticket are seeking renomination on the regular republican ticket against men who this year bear the league endorsement in their stead.

They are Thomas Hall, secretary of state, and Carl Kositzky, state auditor. The Non-Partisan league also has candidates for these offices in J. I. Cahill and D. C. Poindexter.

Republicans and democrats opposed to the league have agreed with the Independent Voters' association to unite in a campaign against the Non-Partisan league and have appointed a joint committee to control a joint campaign fund for use in advancing the candidates of the republican and democratic opponents of the league.

DR. PATTERSON WILL PASTOR PRESBYTERIANS

Doctor Patterson was called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Austin, Texas. The first year of this pastorate was greatly successful. There were added to the church roll 127 members and the financial exhibit showed an expenditure of over $15,000.00.

After serving this church one year Mr. Patterson accepted work with the army Y. M. C. A. He served for nearly six months as religious work director in depot brigade, Camp Travis. After this he did troop train service until Oct., 1918 when he was sent overseas with a party of 12 "Y" workers. While overseas he did such work as put his name among those of honorable mention. After serving as hut secretary for nearly three months he was put under the direction of the speakers' bureau and sent throughout France wherever soldiers were to be found. He was also, together with a singer and a pianist, one of the teams who made the "whirlwind campaign" with the army of occupation in Germany. He returned to America in May, 1919 and in October became the field secretary of Texas and Oklahoma in the Interchurch world movement, which position he held until recently. Trinity University, his alma mater, honored him one year ago by conferring upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Doctor Patterson is a prominent Mason of high degree and is at the present time Grand Prelate of the Grand Commandery of Texas. He comes to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Ada with high standing and unqualified recommendations from every source. The church is fortunate in securing such a man as pastor.

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

By JAMES MORGAN

THE FIRST POLITICIAN

1782—Dec. 5, Martin Van Buren born at Kinderhook, N. Y.
1813-15—State senator.
1815-19—Attorney general of New York.
1821-29—United States senator.
1829—Governor of New York.
Secretary of state of the United States.
1832—Nominated for vice president.
1833—Elected.

MARTIN VAN BUREN was the first machine made politician in the presidency, and he was more than that when put to the test; he was the first of the presidents to have been born under the American flag, rather than under the British, and he and Roosevelt are the only presidents not wholly descended from inhabitants of the United Kingdom.

Sprung from Dutch families on both sides, Van Buren married into a Dutch family, and was able to speak the language of his ancestors. He was born and he died in a little Rip Van Winkle village on the east bank of the Hudson, where his father was a farmer and incidentally a tavern keeper. Leaving school and entering a law office in his native town at fourteen, after the manner of most American leaders from Jackson to Lincoln, he picked up as he went along such education as he gained. Yet not one of our many lawyer presidents has won a higher rank in his profession. While only a boy so small that he had to stand on a bench to address the jury, he scored his first success at the bar. At forty, he retired from practice with money enough for a man with a Dutch thrift, which was mistaken for stinginess by the less prudent.

No doubt Jackson's removal of the public deposits from the United States bank caused financial disturbance and his distribution of the federal surplus among the state treasuries also was disturbing. The government, the banks and the people generally had all merrily joined in sowing the wind, whose harvest was the whirlwind of 1837.

The nation had been indulging in the first of its big western booms. The river steamboat added to open up new regions, where mushroom states, in ambitious emulation of New York and its Erie canal, ran wild in appropriations for the building of canals. Van statesmanship, which he displayed more than one grave emergency. A popular story reflected the general impression of his artful dodging. Once while he was a passenger on a Hudson river boat an anti-Van Buren man said to a Van Buren man:

"I'll bet you the price of the passage that you can't go to him now and get a straight answer to the simplest question that you can ask."

The challenged man, confidently taking the bet, went up to his favorite and inquired if he did not think the weather was fine.

"Well," was the careful measured reply, "that is a relative term and . . ."

"By thunder!" the Van Burenite broke in, as he turned to his challenger, "you've won."

Van Buren became the pioneer national campaign manager when he made an extended electioneering tour for Jackson. Webster declared that he did more for the election of "Old Hickory" than any other 10 men.

In that fierce Jackson campaign, Van Buren took the party nomination for governor of New York. Being elected, he resigned from the senate, and then, after only two months in the governorship, he resigned again to be secretary of state in the new cabinet. Thus he held within 12 weeks three of the highest prizes in public life and at the same time was self-apparent to the presidency itself.

Martin Van Buren.

Buren was the first president-elect to ride in a train even part of the way to Washington, and the expansion of the steam railway system was beginning to inflame the national imagination.

When the day of reckoning and remorse came; when bread riots broke out; when laborers stood in line near New York to get jobs at a wage of $4 a month and board; when banks suspended payments in coin, and when business houses were tumbling into bankruptcy, the bankers and business men, who had always been violently anti-Democratic, turned upon Van Buren and pointed their accusing fingers at the White House. The foremost man of business in conservative New England, Abbott Lawrence, did not hesitate to hint to a public meeting in Boston, the incendiary suggestion that the time might come for forcible resistance to the government, when the crew, as he said, would have to mutiny and seize the ship of state.

Van Buren faced the gale without bending. He rose above political maneuvering and the temptation to flatter the mad passions of the hour—and preserved an attitude of masterful inactivity!

The president did call congress in extra session, but only to recommend the adoption of the sub-treasury system. The banks having failed, he proposed that Uncle Sam, like a timid old woman, should lock up his money in the bureau drawer. And the economic folly of the sub-treasury was persisted in until the establishment of the federal reserve system.

It was squally weather all around, with the costly Seminole war dragging its slow course through the malarial everglades of Florida; with embarrassing revolutions on both sides of us, in the revolted Mexican province of Texas and in Ontario.

The defeats of the Democratic ticket in the off years plainly foreshadowed the ill-starred president's own defeat in his candidacy for re-election in 1840. No prophet was needed to write the refrain of the popular campaign song of the Whigs:

Van! Van!

Is a used up man.

Nevertheless Van Buren remained in active politics 10 years. For still another 10 years he lived on in retirement at Lindenwood, his country estate in his native village, where he died in the midst of the Civil war.

dent Anglo-Americans who knew him. Equally precocious in politics, Van Buren was chosen a delegate to a political convention before he was of age; was appointed a county surrogate at twenty-five; elected to the state senate at thirty; appointed attorney general of the state at thirty-two and at thirty-eight he was selected a senator of the United States. Already he was at the head of the "Albany Regency," which continued to run the Democratic machine in New York and to dominate the national councils of that party for sixty years to come. His skill in political manipulation made him known all over the country as the "Little Magician."

Playing the game of politics only as a New Yorker can and as all New Yorkers in public life do, Van Buren was the first to make his way into the White House in gumshoes. Perhaps his caution as a politician has lost him the credit due him for his
